“It is where I turn your passion into profession”

Bill Wang has been a highly respected broker in the mortgage broking industry for more than 14 years. After he first founded Oriental Finance, the whole company has been healthy and successfully operating for more than eight years, with an increasing client base from various cultures and communities.

Bill’s success can be attributed to the clear identification of his purpose and goals, along with a burning desire to achieve them. Moreover, Bill has also gained a wide range of knowledge in finance, conveyancing as well as the real estate area, which makes him a valuable mentor to follow.

During his career, he has successfully mentored many people with different backgrounds and most of them have achieved success as respected brokering and banking specialists. In his mentoring classes, Bill will not only deliver his 14 years’ industry knowledge, but also share his life experiences to assist in building strong relationships with clients.
