Jean prides herself on being a first class mortgage broker who uses her comprehensive knowledge of the industry to get the best deals for her clients. Jean's clients have often said that her willingness and ability to explain the complexities involved in getting a mortgage has put their minds at ease and made a stressful process seem simple.

Her 20 years as a school teacher and her 14 years as a successful mortgage broker mean that Jean has the experience and skill set necessary to be able to best assist her clients. Jean now combines her two passions and uses her skills as a teacher and a highly respected mortgage broker to mentor new brokers in the industry.

Jean is more than qualified to mentor those new to the industry as she holds a Bachelor of Art in Education, a Diploma of Education and also holds a Certificate IV in Finance Brokering. Jean is accredited with more than 30 banks, and has helped many, many clients to get the loan that best suits them.

Jean is professional, accessible and confident that she can help new brokers to gain the knowledge, experience and passion required to build a successful career in the mortgage broking industry.
