What makes Neil a great mentor

- Has a formal mentor process
- Responsible, Respectable, Reachable
- Motivates mentees by setting a good example
- Values the opinions and initiatives of mentees

With more than 10 years of home loan industry experience and superb working relationships with lenders, reputable solicitors, tax accountants, as well as real estate agents, Neil has assisted many individuals and couples in Melbourne, and around Australia, fulfilling their home-buying dreams.

After so long in the business, Neil understands the importance of communication and keeping his clients well informed. Neil enjoys sitting down with his clients face to face and showing them the options, costs and answering all their questions, ensuring they fully understand the process and take right steps to achieving their goals.
