

AUSTRALIAN SKILLS & ASSESSMENT CENTRE

Profile

Fiona Fitzpatrick

Overview

Fiona Fitzpatrick has been in the Education, and Training industry for over three decades and is the Director of Australian Skills and Assessment Centre, operating throughout Australia and delivering consulting services internationally.

During the last 30 years, Fiona Fitzpatrick has participated in numerous industry and local committees to further the development of relevant training strategies and solutions for the workplace. Previous roles include Managing Director of a national RTO and Director of “Not For Profit” organization’s AdSkil Group Training, and Global Skills Education and Training Ltd. She has been a State Board member for ACPET (Australian Council of Private Education and Training) and an integral member of various steering committees with State and Federal Ministers.

Ms Fitzpatrick is committed to the development of people and workplace learning and brings strategic “hands on” experience in researching and sourcing government funding to implement effective training strategies for small and large organizations.

Qualifications:

Masters in Business Administration – on going

Graduate Diploma in Management (UNE)

Advanced Diploma in Marketing

Diploma in Management

Certificate IV in Training and Assessment